Large Demand For New Fabric

Full Range Ready For Next Spring

Export Trade Hopes

Although continual demands are being made by wholesale houses and retail drapery establishments in all parts of the country for early supplies of materials made from the new anti-crease cotton and artificial silk, it is not expected that any great range of creaseless dress goods will be available until next Spring.

Immediate and widespread interest has been aroused by the announcement that the problem of producing fabrics of this kind has been solved by the scientific research department of Messrs. Tootal, Broadhurst, Lee Company, Ltd., of Manchester, and it is believed by authorities in London that the discovery should lead to an important expansion of business for sections of the British textile trade in meeting not only the requirements of customers in the United Kingdom, but the orders of buyers in many foreign countries.

Britain's Opportunity. Indeed, unless any overseas firms are able without much delay to discover the secret of the process evolved after 14 years of patient research by Messrs. Tootal, Broadhurst Lee, Britain's opportunity for creating a substantial export trade should be very considerable, for in Germany, Australia, Czechoslovakia and France, manufacturers have been unsuccessful so far in their attempts to turn out a similar creaseless fabric. Meanwhile, the British secret is being closely guarded.

At the London headquarters of Messrs. Tootal Broadhurst Lee, I was told to-day that as the extended new buildings needed at the company's Glossop works in order to develop a large-scale production of anti-crease materials would not be completed until October, it was possible that only a somewhat limited selection of piece goods would find their way gradually into the shops before the Spring.

Qualities of Wool.

When the women of the country can obtain garments which have undergone the new treatment, it was stated, they will find that they

MENU SUGGESTIONS FOR TO-MORROW.

Breakfast: Cantaloupe, Waffles and Maple Syrup, Broiled Bacon, Coffee, Dinner: Chilled Diced Fruit, Roast Veal and Browned Potatoes, Buttered Cauliflower, Bread, Currant Jam, Asparagus Salad, Apple Pudding, Hard Sauce, Iced Tea, Supper: Sliced Veal Sandwiches, Pickles, Chocolate Cookies, Fresh Peaches, Iced Coffee, Asparagus Salad, Bettina (Serving Six): 2 cups diced cooked asparagus, 1 cup sliced cucumbers, 2 tablespoons chopped onions, 2 tablespoons chopped green peppers, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 1/2 cup French dressing, Mix and chill ingredients. Serve on lettuce leaves.

Apple Pudding: 2 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 1/3 cup sugar, 5 tablespoons fat, 2 1/2 cup milk, Mix flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut in fat with knife. Mixing with knife, add milk. When soft dough forms, pat out, fit over apple mixture. Apple Mixture: 3 cups sliced apples, 1 cup water, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 2 tablespoons grated lemon rind, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, Mix apples and water. Cover, cook five minutes. Add rest of ingredients. Pour into bottom of buttered baking dish. Cover with dough. Make four holes in top, bake 30 minutes in moderate oven. Serve warm or cold.

SUMMER TREATMENT FOR THE SKIN.

Simple Lotions Prove Most Effective.

The change of climate in the Summer is so sudden that the delicate skin tissues may become unduly irritated. If the skin is red and burned the irritation may be relieved at once by bathing with a simple lotion composed of one part of lime water and two parts of olive oil. This remedy may be used daily and supplemented by a bleaching paste once a week. Equal parts of lime water and linseed oil make an effective remedy.

Some of us like to freckle but most of us do not. A good lotion for clearing the skin of freckles can be made as follows:—Sulphocarbonate of zinc 1/2 dram; glycerine 1 1/2 ounces; rosewater 4 ounces; cologne water 8 drams. Shake well together and apply with a wet pad of cotton wool.

The following are two good mild bleaches for freckles:

1. One ounce of glycerine; two ounces of rosewater; 1/4 dram of powdered sal ammoniac; 1/2 an ounce of lemon or lime juice; 1/2 a pint of rosewater or distilled water.

2. One ounce of glycerine; one ounce of rosewater and two drops of tincture of benzoin.

THE BRIDAL VEIL OF TO-DAY.

Old Family Drapery Most Imposing.

A pretty bride wore, the other day, a very lovely veil of Brussels lace with her slim frocks of white satin, and where there is an old veil in the family, it provides the most imposing of all draperies.

Lace of modern manufacture is rarely chosen. Nets and tulle are more appealing because they are lighter and easily clouded around the bride's long gown.

Pale coloured nets, slightly stiffened, fall in graceful folds from caps of pearls. I saw recently a young bride with a ecru tulle veil matching her satin frock. The hems were stitched with silver threads. But, as a rule, in order to achieve the lightest effect possible, the tulle veil is left raw-edged.

WHITE SEA SUITS FOR MILADY.

Carefully Tailored Costumes.

Look out for the new "white" bathing suits. They are really cream-coloured, worn with black belts, or with black motifs stitched somewhere at the sides.

White is very smart for slim figures. The shapes of these new suits are not complicated. The cut is good and should fit as carefully as tailored costumes.

Some are heavily ribbed. Other wools are given a mesh effect on account of many lines running web-fashion all over the surface.

Backs are low, but the fronts fit snugly; most of the suits have skirts, and these are shaped to the body.

have the creaseless qualities of wool, and, no matter how crumpled, a dress may become if it is carelessly packed in a suitcase, there will be no trace of a crease as soon as it is unfolded. Similarly, there should be no creasing whatever while it is being worn.

Mr. Herbert Kay, who is actively associated with many of the chief wholesale dress houses in London, said that members of the trade in the West End thought that, if the discovery fulfilled all the claims being made for it, the demand for the fabrics would no doubt be enormous in Britain and abroad, with the result that additional employment should be found in various branches of the textile business.

Gownmakers should greatly benefit, he added, because they would be able to make-up feeling confident that complaints about creasing would not follow delivery of their goods.

Quillan At "Central."

Miss Berl's Charm.

Beth Beri has grace, charm and beauty. What more can one ask?—I don't think you have ever heard the castanets played here, as well as she does, and at special request she still gives the big favourite the Fan Dance. How perfectly Monia Litter accompanies her, and his solos are alone worth a visit. These two are proving a big attraction at the King's.

* * *

Bela Lugosi, and Sydney Fox in "Murders in the Rue Morgue," not too good Janet Gaynor, Charles Farrell, El Brendel in a delightful play, "Delicious." Highly recommended, "Heartbreak" with Farrell and Madge Evans. Did not like it. "June Moon" with Jack Oakie story of Tin-pan Alley. Grand (Oriental.)

Looking Them Over.
Tallulah Bankhead and Fredrich March in "My Sin." "Aren't We All?" with Gertrude Lawrence and Owen Nares. British Paramount. I like Harold Huth the best in it. The Lawrence girl does not photograph too well; and Owen Nares always did leave me cold. Perfectly produced. I was disappointed, but would advise it, as the play was likeable. "Amateur Daddy," not great, very simple, but Warner Baxter and Marian Nixon are adorable.

Good for the kiddies. Did you notice in "Tarzan" that when Maureen O'Sullivan asked Neil Hamilton "Are these pygmies?"—he said, "No—they are dwarfs." (Brilliant dialogue by Ivor Novello.) M. G. M. knew they would cause trouble if they claimed these freaks from the circus to be real pygmies. BUT if "Congozilla" you WILL see the real things, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson make them into comedians. Someone stated these two intrepid explorers and photographers were British. They are Americans.

When this picture comes to the King's soon, believe me you will see. thrills, comedy, gorgeous scenery, native marriage customs and animals of every description. Even if you are tired of Darkest Africa, I think this authentic film should be seen. All these attractions due at the King's.

Won't I be glad to see an old friend, who has done great things in England since he was here, with Adele Blood in Daniel Frawley's Company. Bernard Nedell, now a famous actor, manager, will be seen in "Innocent in Chicago." They call it a parody, but if you know anything of gangster life in Chicago, you will find a great deal of it rings true and is not exaggeration. I am looking forward to seeing this short at the Queen's.

GOSSIP FROM HERE & THERE

When you see Cavalier in "Love Me to-night," which is now being played at the Los Angeles Paramount Theatre, you will marvel at the versatility of the star. He plays more variety of scenes that has ever done, comedy, dramatic, emotional and romantic love-making without song to help. Glad to see him sing in seven numbers, three of which are solos, and Jeanette MacDonald's big hit is her solo "Lover." Also sings in five, other numbers Charles Ruggles, Myrna Loy, Charles Butterworth and Aubrey Smith are in a perfectly chosen cast. With this tremendous attraction down from Paramount, we are in for a treat, as I hear privately it is called "Love Parade."

[illegible]

Roland Young after returning from London started work with United Artists. Herbert Brenon is seriously thinking of making a film in England with his own capital, as he thinks the future of British pictures a rosy one.

"Rain" with Joah Crawford, and (I think) the greatest character actor on the screen—Walter Huston was due at Grauman's Chinese Theatre on September 9. The very latest news from Paramount discloses that Frederick Marsh will play Marcus Superbus, in "The Sign of the Cross" with Elisabeth Landi, Mercia, Claudette Colbert—"Poppea"—Ian Keith as Captain of the Guard, Charles Laughton as Nero, twelve-year old Tommy Conlon as Stephanus (glad to see a 'boy' take this part, at last). Work with 7,500 extras starts at once under an army of Directors headed by Cecil B. de Mille. All the Paramount Stars made brief appearances in "Merton of the Movies" in which Stuart Erwin and Joan Blondell are co-featured.

I agree with Skeets Gallagher in "Merrily We Go To Hell." What America needs is less blondes. Adrienne Allen and Lyda Robert are both disappointing me.

Grand to hear Central will give Radio and Universal. The good breaks are coming our way.

"MILLION DOLLAR LEGS"—KING'S THEATRE.

Laughs galore are packed into an hour's entertainment at the King's Theatre, where "Million Dollar Legs" a story about the Olympic Games, is the current attraction. This type of production has started the craze, for stories about the Olympic competitors.

"Million Dollar Legs" is worth seeing, even though it is an absurdity. Headed by Jack Oakie, the cast, which includes W.C. Fields, Lyda Roberti (a Shanghai Cafe dancer), and Susan Fleming, all give creditable performances. Fields is seen as the President of a mythical kingdom called Klopstockia. Oakie, with his ever pleasant grin and wise-cracking, is a live-wire American who comes along to train a team of athletes.

"NOVELTY PROGRAMME"—QUEEN'S THEATRE.

The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer novelty programme, which is being offered now at the Queen's Theatre, is drawing crowded houses to every performance. Such a change is truly welcome, and more offerings of this nature, will certainly brighten local entertainment considerably.

Of special interest in the programme is the first pictures of the Olympic Games at Los Angeles, this being followed by "Sharks and Swordfish" a novel featurette.

"Mexicana" an all-colour revue is also offered, and the programme is well-balanced by two excellent comedies, Charlie Chase in "One of the Smiths" and the popular pair, Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, in "Chickens Come Home". Certainly, well worth seeing!

"RICH MAN'S FOLLY"—MAGISTIC THEATRE

A gripping drama, "Rich Man's Folly," featuring George Bancroft, is now showing at the Magistic Theatre.

It is the story of an arrogant shipbuilder, who puts his business before everything else. His ruthless determination to have his way at all costs, causes the death of his child, drives his daughter away from him, and finally leads to the downfall of his business.

He is supported by Frances Dee, Robert Ames and Juliette Compton.

"HOLD EVERYTHING"—STAR THEATRE

Joe E. Brown, the rubber-gaced comedian, and Winnie Lightner, the delightful comedienne, form an inimitable comedy pair in "Hold Everything." Warner Brothers' lavish all-colour presentation, now showing at the Star Theatre. Many notable comedians appear, while Georges Carpentier delights with a round or two of boxing. The film is filled with laughs and is one that should be seen!

MAIL REVIEW

"NIGHT WORK"—CENTRAL THEATRE

Eddie Quillan, young screen comedian, makes his first stellar appearance in the comedy drama "Night Work" which is now showing at the Central Theatre.

"Night Work" deals with an assistant window dresser in a department store who is paid a small salary for being the goat on all occasions. He becomes interested in an orphan, meets the girl of his dreams, a nurse in the orphanage, and their love romance provides many humorous adventures and laughs.

MAIL REVIEW

"FRANKENSTEIN"—TAIPIING THEATRE.

Boris Karloff does excellent work as the hideous monster in "Frankenstein" the current attraction at the Tai Ping Theatre. There is a ring of eeriness, which is maintained throughout the film, which is, perhaps, even more weird than "Dracula." Colin Clive, as the mad medical student, does good work. Mae Clarke and John Boles are also in the film.

MAIL REVIEW

"LET'S GO NATIVE"—GARDEN THEATRE

Jeanette MacDonald, Jack Oakie, Skeets Gallagher, and William Austin, in "Let's Go Native" now showing at the Garden Theatre, go out on a yacht cruise, and a storm causes them to be marooned on an island. Here, they go native and fun begins in full measure. Worth seeing!

"MURDERS IN THE RUE MORGUE"—ORIENTAL THEATRE

Universal's adaptation of Edgar Allan Poe's strange drama "Murders in the Rue Morgue" is the current Oriental Theatre attraction, starring Bela Lugosi, Sydney Fox and Leon Waycott. Though not keeping strictly to the letter of the book, the production nevertheless contains much that is eerie, and the acting of Lugosi, the screen's "Dracula," is very creditable.

CHARGE AGAINST DE LA SALA.

Changed To Common Assault Count.

A charge of common assault was proceeded with against Pastor de la Sala when a former charge of criminal intimidation, lodged by Major L. Cassel of The Critic, was dropped before Mr. Wynne-Jones at the Central Magistracy yesterday.

Evidence was given by Major Cassel and Mr. Raymond O'Shea, Editor of the magazine.

Mr. Leo D'Almada, for the accused, suggested to the complainant that perhaps the revolver La Sala was alleged to have taken from his desk drawer to threaten Major Cassel, was in reality only a bunch of keys. Major Cassel vigorously denied this.

Hearing was adjourned until Thursday and during that time, a legal point raised by the defendant counsel, Mr. D'Almada, is to be considered by His Worship. The point concerns the nature and meaning of the word assault.

Big Meals And Great Writers.

In the latest publication of the International Labour Office on Health and Occupation there are most comfortable sayings, supporting the view that on the whole excellence with the pen goes hand in hand with excellence with the knife and fork, and that the great writers are the great trenchermen as well. Literary ambition is so common in these days among the young that the doctors who are now raising their sagacious voices against slimming and the sacrifice of physical well-being to vanity find an excellent argument to their hand. The great attraction of the literary life is that it need have no regular hours—which means, in other words, that meals can last indefinitely. The great men of action have to live by schedule; Napoleon had commonly finished his food in twenty minutes. All who live by the clock and whose days consist of appointments with their fellows find that but once in the day, and that only in the sleepy and exhausted evening, can they settle down to deep repletion. But writing can not only be postponed, it can be done at table. It is not alone in this, for the practice of other imaginative arts, and notably the sale of stocks and shares, has always combined very happily with the larger meals; but writing has the further advantage that it can be carried on alone, and it is a widespread view that the best eating is done alone with no distractions about good table manners or conversation. Now is the farmer's opportunity. Everybody answers advertisements that promise to teach the lucrative art of letters. The farmer of the world are longing to see writers being worn full this year, and writers may be lured from penmanship by the lure of money. Policy the sure way to gain command of the pen is to write about the things one knows about.

mists that the human stomach is a limited thing, and that, whereas industries which pander to vanity have an endless market, there is a definite saturation point for food and drink. The vogue of the long book, calling for considerable muscular development, should help the vogue of the long meal. It is surely not altogether an accident that the Victorians both wrote and ate at the friendly length they did, and that the eighteenth century thought so generously of what constituted a dinner or a book. Let there be posters showing Rabelais composing at table his tremendous masterpiece, or St. Thomas Aquinas finding the regal board an aid to philosophical debate. It will be said that these great meals are dangerous, but it can be crushingly answered that man ought to live dangerously. Why should all the admiration kept for those who live reckless lives go to steeplejacks or parachutists, and none be kept for those who boldly call for a second and a third steak in the face of the most menacing and solemn of medical warnings? The great writers, the Johnsons and Balzacs and Dumas, who disposed of great slices of life with such relish and gusto, were not skimpy men for ever fearful of getting out of the line. The report of the L.L.O. bears useful tribute to the truth that a certain uncalculating eagerness and a vast appetite for experience must mark the great writer, and that meals also are experiences.

In Possession Of Stolen Brooch.

The last charges of robbery concerning two Peak homes was concluded to-day when three soldiers of the South Wales Borderers appeared on remand before Mr. Schofield at the Central Magistracy this morning.

They had been charged with receiving a brooch which belonged to Miss D. B. B. of the Peak. The brooch was found in the possession of William B. B. of the Peak. The brooch was found in the possession of William B. B. of the Peak. The brooch was found in the possession of William B. B. of the Peak.

COLONY'S GREETING TO MACAO.

On Anniversary Of Republic's Birth.

According to a communication from his Excellency the O.A.G., the following exchange of telegrams has taken place between the Governments of Hong Kong and Macao:—

"To Governor, Macao.

"On the occasion of the anniversary of the proclamation of the Portuguese Republic I offer Your Excellency and the Colony of Macao my sincere good wishes and those of the Colony of Hong Kong.

SOUTHERN,
Officer Administering
the Government."

The reply was:—

"To Officer Administering the Government, Hong Kong.

"I thank Your Excellency most heartily in my name and in the name of the Colony for the good wishes sent me on the occasion of the anniversary of the Republic.

GOVERNOR."

OPIUM SEIZED ON JUNK IN HARBOUR.

Woman Tries To Throw
Evidence Overboard.

Acting on the information that there was opium aboard, police boarded a junk in the harbour and arrested Ho Yee-mui, 49, boat mistress, who was in possession of five tins of opium and three bottles of Chinese wine.

She attempted to throw the opium, valued at $60, into the harbour, but was unsuccessful.

A fine of $600 or three months' hard labour was given on the opium charge and a fine of $10 or 10 days' hard labour for the wine charge, by Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Police Court this morning.

TECHNICAL SCHOOL OPENS TERM.

Night Classes Find
Wide Curriculum.

The prospectus of the Hong Kong Technical Institute has just been issued. It contains courses in building, construction, field surveying, electrical engineering, shorthand for beginners and revision, book-keeping, English, French, and sanitary engineering. Kowloon will also offer classes in chemistry, practical and theoretical, shorthand and cookery. The first session has already commenced and will end two weeks before the Chinese New Year. The second session will begin two weeks after the Chinese New Year and finish in June.

A nominal charge of $10 per term is being made. Attendance requirements have been made quite strict. Anyone not in attendance for two weeks will have his name removed from the register.

Classes are scheduled to be held every evening except Saturday. They are to begin between 5 and 6 p.m. and will end not later than 10.

TWO EARTH COOLIES STABBED.

Fight In Wanchai
District.

Two Chinese earth coolies were stabbed in Percival Street last night during a fight. One of them, who received three wounds, is now lying in a critical condition at the Government Civil Hospital, while the condition of the other man is not considered so serious.

Both men were employees of the Fuen Kee firm of building contractors, and were set upon by several men when passing the Lee Theatre. The reason for the attack is at present unknown.

News In Brief.

A fine of $50 or six weeks' hard labour was imposed on a coal cooler at the Central Magistracy this morning, when he was convicted of supplying blacked-up faces. The "black" was a "holed" medicinal preparation.

Wong Hang, a Chinese, was sentenced to six months' hard labour at the Central Magistracy this morning for supplying blacked-up faces.

Unemployed Plod Over Australia

Foreigners, Too, Get
Ration Dole

No Favouritism Shown

"I came to Australia at my own expense in 1922, and have been without permanent employment since 1930, and in receipt of the dole for the past twelve months. (At the outset I should like to say that a distinction is made between native born and immigrant unemployed, in the granting of unemployment relief, are quite false). In the past twelve months I have travelled over 5,000 miles through New South Wales and Queensland in search of work," writes "Tramper" in the Shanghai Sunday Times.

In Queensland single unemployed men are able to draw 5s. worth of rations every Tuesday, provided that they keep moving and do not draw rations in the same town two weeks in succession. Cards are issued by the police, and travelling unemployed carry their cards from police station to police station, presenting the current one each Tuesday in exchange for a 5s. order on a local store, and taking a new card with them for use at another police station on the Tuesday following.

This system prevents the men from massing together in or near towns in absolute idleness, and it allows them to make use of the opportunity of picking up seasonal work. But it gives the State of Queensland a vast vagrant army moving hopelessly about in search of work, of which there is not enough to absorb one-tenth of the men.

Last Winter I was one of this number, and travelled as far north in North Queensland as within seventy miles of Cooktown, and in the six months that I spent in the State I only got two days' work. Amongst the numbers I encountered "on the track" were a goodly sprinkling of immigrants, a saddening feature of this phase of existence as I witnessed it was the number of youths, native-born Australians, who have scarcely any time to accustom themselves to habits of work, and are now drifting into a condition of shameful hooliganism.

Genial Climate.
The Winter climate in North Queensland is as genial as any in the world and naturally tends to lighten the burden of existence for such as are homeless and destitute; nevertheless the condition of the men on the road is an acutely uncomfortable one. The 5s. worth of rations lasts at longest about three days, so that for the remaining four days in every seven the traveller is entirely dependent on charity. I feel bound to say that the Queenslanders have stood up to the burden of helping this vagrant army in a very generous fashion; but this is not to say that hunger is not experienced on the road, though I actually came in contact with none who appeared to be suffering from malnutrition. Of course this army is unbelievably ragged and often absolutely unshod. I myself walked many miles in my bare feet last Winter. However, the Commonwealth Government did distribute surplus army clothing last Winter in Queensland, and kindly folk did their best to help individually.

To cover the long distances between most police stations, and to save footwear which can hardly be replaced, most of the travelling unemployed are almost forced to steal rides on goods trains. I have "jumped" trains in Queensland on which as many as thirty and forty others were non-paying passengers. Very often these trains are raided by the police, but usually when the delinquents are brought before a magistrate it is realised that any normal individual must qualify before the prospect of walking endless and aimless miles, and a few days in the local lock-up is the penalty enforced.

No attempt has been made by the Government to provide camping quarters for the travelling unemployed in any State. In Queensland nightfall usually finds groups huddled together at wayside stations, in disused yards, and even in pigsties! I have myself camped in a pigyard in company with twenty or thirty other men.

In New South Wales the ration-scale allowed to travelling unemployed, though more generous nominally than in Queensland, goes no further owing to the higher cost of living. However, in New South Wales the single unemployed are not kept on the move and can draw rations in one town practically indefinitely. In spite of this, because perhaps Queensland is a more prosperous State and certainly enjoys a more general Winter climate, there is a tendency amongst the travelling unemployed to gravitate thither.

At the moment of writing I am living in a south coast town in New South Wales. I am camped in an empty house (by permission of the owners), and I draw (as a locally registered unemployed) 15s. worth of foodstuff every fortnight. The majority of people in this town are English immigrants; the men-folk are mostly miners who have been out of work for more than two years. The married folk still manage to keep roofs over their heads and to live in restricted comfort. By far the worst feature of this life as I see it is the stark hopelessness of the future.

JAPANESE PRODIGY TO BE HEARD.

Another Pleasant Concert.

Another well-selected programme of musical items is scheduled to take place at the Peninsula Hotel next Sunday night.

An opportunity of hearing the youthful Japanese Xylophone artists, Sadao Iwai, will be afforded during the concert. A fortnight ago he gave an inspired concert to an appreciative audience at the Peninsula Hotel, which will long be remembered. On this occasion, probably his last before he departs for a world tour, he will play "Gypsy Airs" by Sarasate and "The Mocking Bird" by Stobbe.

In all, a pleasant evening is assured for those who attend.

SPANISH PEASANTS LIVE IN MISERY.

Money Non-Existent
In Many Places.

Madrid, Sept. 20.

The miserable standard of living of peasants in the remote districts of the Province of Leon has been graphically described by a member of the Government Commission sent to investigate conditions.

The description says: "The peasants who have bread to eat are considered rich, and this bread is a mixture of rye and bran, which even the dogs we had with us would not eat after a tramp of eight hours."

In some of the villages, La Bana, for example, which has 1,200 inhabitants, money does not exist, and is replaced by barter except for the payment of taxes and for trade with neighbouring villages. The women weave and spin making their own clothing. Houses consist of a single room, the floor being made of mud, and the walls of plaster. The furniture is made of wood, and the only articles of value are the tools and the few articles of clothing which the men possess.

The Legislative Council yesterday gave second and third reading to the Budget Bill, containing Estimates totalling $27,585,142, all of which were approved without alteration, although there are critical expressions from a number of members for the lack of expenditure in what they considered vital public works. Nevertheless, the entire Council approved the policy of prudent economy, in which the Estimates were framed, and their support drew the gratified approval of His Excellency the Officer Administering the Government, Hon. Mr. W. T. Southorn, C.M.G.

The Budget as a whole involves a large sum of revenue and expenditure, and while it is only to be expected that Honourable Members should feel some disappointment at the absence of works in which they are specially interested, I would venture to remind them that it is as the revenue is so far beyond the limits of that revenue and as it must balance our budget, we must

Aston Villa's Visit To Huddersfield.

BIRMINGHAM AND NOTTS
"DERBIES."

OF the 108 teams competing in the English League and the First Division of the Scottish League there are now only three clubs who can boast of an undefeated record—Aston Villa, one of the most famous teams in the history of professional football;
Brentford, the Third Division Club who have secured the services of Vivian Gibbins, the former West Ham and England centre forward; and Motherwell, last year's champions of Scotland.

To-morrow the Villa, after inflicting a heavy defeat on the Porters at Villa Park last Saturday, are visiting Huddersfield Town and will be participants in probably the best match of the day. The Yorkshiremen are at present fourth in the Table and 2 points in arrears.

Brentford, the League champions, are entertaining Blackpool and should find little difficulty in gaining both points.
Newcastle United, the F.A. Cup holders, are visiting Sheffield United where they will probably be seen at their best after the reverse they sustained last Saturday when at home to Huddersfield.

Brentford are away to Swindon and should hold their unbeaten record in spite of the ground disadvantage. Newport, one of the three teams who have not yet recorded a win, are at home to Exeter City, and it looks very much as if the Welsh team will again leave their ground pointers. Darlington, in the Northern section, have also yet to record a win and may just be good enough to account for Hullfax Town.

Motherwell, after their draw against the Rangers on Saturday, are at home to Queen's Park. The Park side are in great form at the moment, having decisively beaten St. Mirren and lying ninth in the Table, but it will cause a surprise if they leave the champions pointers.

Falkirk, who are scrambling for their first win of the season, may accomplish the unexpected when visiting Ayr United, though the balance weighs heavily against them.

The following are the full fixtures
for to-morrow:—

LINCOLNS SOCCER
DEBUT.

Strong Police Team
Being Fielded.

SOUTH CHINA TO AVENGE
ARTILLERY DEFEAT.

THE Lincolns who failed to impress in their Hockey debut yesterday, are making their debut in the Soccer League against the Police at Sookunpoo to-morrow.

It should be a good game as the Police are turning out a strong team, and if Channing, Jessop and C. Pile can hold Higgins, Harding and Kirkham the issue should be in doubt until the final whistle.

The following are the two teams:—

Lincolns:—Pte. Heath; Pte. Turner,
Cpl. Ash; Pte. Dudley, L/Cpl. Barber,
L/Cpl. Cork; Pte. Kirkham, L/Cpl.
Harding, Pte. Higgins, L/Cpl. Ridley,
and L/Cpl. Baldry.

Police:—Fraser; Blackburn, C. Pile,
Downman, Channing, Jessop, T. Pile,
Brittain, Moss, Stephens, and Forrest.
The Lincolns are well served at forward, Harding and Kirkham forming a most formidable right wing, and their half backs are very sound with L/Cpl. Barber an excellent pivot. The side is at full strength with the exception of their right half, Sgt. Reeks, who broke his leg during the farewell game against Tung Wah in Shanghai.

South China, hot favourites for the Championship, are playing at Caroline Hill against the Artillery to-morrow afternoon. The Gunners found a weak South China team easy prey in their first match of the season when they won by 5 goals to 2, but to-morrow they will encounter a very much strengthened combination, and it will be very surprising if Lee Walton and his colleagues do not pile up six goals to avenge the former defeat of the South China team.
The Artillery lost to the Borderers by 4 clear goals last Saturday
while South China beat Kowloon
by 4 to 1.

The Navy are making their debut on the St. Joseph's ground tomorrow, and without any team to go by it is difficult to forecast the result. St. Joseph's will be in good fettle after their win over the Police and should give a good account of themselves.

The Club are fortunate to be pitted against the weakened Re-creio team and should be able to win comfortably, providing Howe and his inside forwards are in good shooting form.

The game between Eastern and Kowloon in the Second Division has been postponed by request of the Eastern team, and the Third Division game between the Royal Engineers and the Royal Army Service Corps will be played on Sunday at 4.30 p.m. on the Chatham Road ground.

The following is to-morrow's programme with the probable teams appended:—

FIRST DIVISION.

(kick-off 4.30 p.m.)
South China v. Artillery at Caroline Hill.

South China:—Lin Shin-shan; Leung
To-shan, Lau Mau; Lu Kwak-wai,
Leung Wing-chiu, Tong Kwan; Cheng
Sai-hung, Leung Fat-wing, Lee Walton, Wong Mee-shun and Yeung Ponhin.

Artillery:—Combey; Taylor, Walker,
Rodgers, Pardoe, Salt, Wood, Allen,
Bryant, Moore and Seal.

St. Joseph's v. Navy at St. Joseph's.

St. Joseph's:—Marques; T. Leonard,
L. Gomes; F. G. Victor, N. Beltrao,
L. Fernandes; Delgado, B. Gosano, D.
Leonard, L. Sousa, and M. Sahban.

Club v. Recreio at the Valley.
Recreio:—Remedios; Silva-Netto, Britto, Gutierrez, Figueroa, A. Re-
medios; Goncalves, Gomes, Santos, Xavier and Ribeiro.

SECOND DIVISION

(at 3 p.m.)

Club v. Tsung Tsin at the Valley.
St. Joseph's v. Lincolns at St.
Joseph's.

St. Joseph's:—B. Sousa; A. L.
Fahman, E. Lawrence; A. Hussan, P.
Anthony, M. Moosa; L. Ali, A.
Gutierrez, H. Sousa, J. Santos, and C.
Victor.

Navy v. Athletic at Kowloon
(4.30 p.m.)

Navy:—Even; Cowen, Heath; Burrows, Ross; Harwell; Warner, Bryant, Chadwick, Marrell and Smith.

Artillery v. Borderers at Sookun-poo.

Artillery:—Wood, Brydon, Gibbins,
Ward, Smith, Walker, Stanton, Dis-combe, Birmingham, Forbes and Cor-ville.

Estimates Passed

It was not proposed, he said, to expand the Cadet Service, and in this matter there appeared to be a misunderstanding. Because the age of retirement had been altered, and the training period for cadets lengthened, it was obviously necessary to make extra provision during the transition period.

"The Government," he said, in answer to doubts of the wisdom of the policy expressed by Sir Henry Pollock, "is satisfied that no excessive demands have been made in the Estimates in view of the retirements already foreseen."

Different Problems.

It had been suggested that comprehensive contracting out of the large Public Works, he considered, he went on: "In very large works requiring the highest specialised experience there is nothing to be said against this view; and the Gorge Valley Dam is a good instance where Government has at least gone a long way towards accepting it. But in less specialised works the problem is not the same. An analysis of the suggestion shows that it means alteration of existing departmental methods only to the extent of entrusting to outside firms the duties of designing and of overseeing. I wonder if the work of the Public Works Department in designing our more important schemes is appreciated—and still more whether and outside firm would stand for the worry and constant changes to which the Public Works Department is subject, and to which any Government scheme must be subject.

"Official and Unofficial views, technical and non-technical requirements, departmental suggestions, have all to be dealt with and combined, only at the end sometimes to find that the money is short, and that the work must be begun over again on a new foundation. Even where the money difficulty is absent, the problem remains; the plans of the Government Civil Hospital have run through the alphabet already to Letter J and the finality is not yet in sight. The Public Works Department might be glad enough to hand over all this trouble, but I doubt whether an outside firm would welcome it with the dovetailing of all the interests to be considered. It could be done of course at a price; but private firms too have to allow in one way or another for salaries, passages, leave and something to take the place of pensions and it is difficult to attack the assertion that the Government Departmental method of Public Works Department work is the most economical.

Aviation Subsidy.

"The question of Aviation in Hong Kong has been prominent in the Debate. In such a new and untried subject I suggest that very close thought is required at the outset to find the fundamental principles that should guide us locally. Aviation is not a local concern—even a Training School and a Flying Club can exist only as parts of a wider whole. No large Aviation enterprise has ever started—and few if any exist—without a subsidy of the kind that can only be provided by a National Government which is too big for a Colony like Hong Kong to consider, and there are many considerations other than the subsidy—they need no reference—which make it necessary to rest any Aviation Scheme which is to be given a hope of success on National Assistance.

"We can be sympathetic and ready to do our bit, but we cannot stand on our own feet alone; and it is with this in mind that entries to foster Aviation have been made in the Estimates. The figures may almost be taken as token figures—an earnest of our sympathy which must be strong to find the sums promised in these times. The sums are as much as we can afford, and have comparatively little connection with the requirements of any scheme, as these requirements cannot yet be estimated with reasonable accuracy. The money, however, is ready and will be available for any proposition which the Government is satisfied will offer a reasonable chance of success; but such a scheme must inevitably show a close connection with wider schemes covering hemispheres. Our mite would be useful then and would be forthcoming.

"As shewing the difficulties of arriving at a decision in this matter the Secretary of State has intimated that it will be necessary for him to be satisfied of the soundness of any scheme proposed before he can sanction the expenditure even of the sums entered in the Estimates.

"I note it, passing that the Hon. Mr. Shenton refers to an offer of $60,000 spread over three years. I am not aware what this refers to. The amount provided in the Estimates is $300,000 spread over five years.

A New Hangar

"We are not meanwhile delaying in providing accommodation at Kai Tak. A new Commercial Aviation Hangar is under consideration, and the facts and figures you have heard to-day from the Hon. Mr. Shenton are being carefully weighed so that the new Hangar when it is provided shall as far as possible be sufficient for all needs. But the uncertainties of every phase of the subject of Aviation make the question an exceedingly difficult one.

"Turning to the Kowloon Post office, I fear I have small satisfaction for Hon. Members if they were hoping that the plans and preliminaries were ready for an early start of the work.

A WHOLE WEEK'S NEWSPAPERS IN ONE.

H.M.S. Suffolk, of the China Station, carrying on board her sixteen Officers and 787 other ranks of the 1st Battalion The Lincolnshire Regiment arrived in the Colony from Shanghai on October 3. The Lincolnshires, one of the oldest regiments in the British Army, are replacing the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, who are leaving for the North on the troopship Neurahia, on November 10. The Argylls were rushed to Shanghai during the Sino-Japanese hostilities. The Suffolk berthed in the Naval Anchorage, and the troops were transported by launches to the Sham Shui Po Camp. A full story of their Regimental history and activities in the sporting world is published in the OVERLAND CHINA MAIL.

The trial of Cheng Kwok-yau, found guilty at the Supreme Court on a charge of procuring the murder of George Fung at Village Road on the night of March 24 last, has entered its fourth stage, H.E. the Governor, in Council, granting a respite of three months on his execution, which normally would have taken place between October 2 and 9. Meanwhile, a petition for clemency has been drawn up by leading local Chinese residents and circulated. A story is given in the OVERLAND CHINA MAIL.

The Mamak Hockey Tournament, in which 26 teams have entered this season, opened in brilliant weather on the afternoon of October 1, three matches being decided. St. Andrew's Club, the Police and the Inconnitos all proved victorious at the hands of H.M.S. Phoenix, the German Club and the R.A.S.C. In all, 650 games have to be decided between October and April next year. Great enthusiasm is being displayed and the year should prove a great one in the history of local hockey activities. The games are all reported in the OVERLAND CHINA MAIL.

There is no phase of the life of the Colony or of China that does not receive attention in the OVERLAND CHINA MAIL—the weekly paper that YOU MUST ORDER NOW.

IMPERIAL AIRWAYS' EXPANSION.

Big New Planes And Links In Africa.

London, To-day.

A weekly air mail service, has been established between Broken Hill, Northern Rhodesia and Elizabethville, Belgian Congo, connecting with England via the South African air mail, which leaves Croydon every Wednesday for the African continent.

Three of a fleet of eight new monoplanes, the first monoplanes to be used by Imperial Airways, have been delivered at the London Air Park for service on the Croydon-Cape Town route. They are known as the "Atlantis" class and have been specially designed for flying in the tropics, by the Armstrong-Whitworth Aircraft Company. Each has four double Armstrong-Siddeley Mongoose engines and is capable of flying 150 miles per hour. The monoplanes are luxuriously equipped, and it is expected the whole fleet will be in service by the end of the year.—British Wireless Service.

AMAH'S SHRIEKS BALK THIEVES.

Four Armed Men Fly As Alarm Raised.

ONE MAN ARRESTED.

The shouts of an amah frustrated an armed robbery on the third floor of 428, Bockhart Road, which four Chinese men attempted yesterday.

In a report to the Police, Li Poyuen, 26, a concubine, stated that she was awakened from sleep by shouts from her amah. She saw three men rushing down the stairs. A fourth man, who was armed with a knife, and later arrested by the Police, was struggling with her brother in the sitting room.

The robbers had been on the premises for about five minutes, but stole nothing. They fled at the amah's wild alarm.

JAPAN ORDERS BIG U.S. OIL SUPPLY.

After Reported Deal With Soviet.

Los Angeles, To-day.

It is announced that the Japanese navy has contracted for large quantities of American oil.

The announcement came after recent reports to the effect that Japan would negotiate oil contracts with Soviet Russia to supply the Japanese navy and make it independent of oil supplies from the United States.

The contracts included an order of 280,000 barrels from the Union Oil company and 104,000 barrels from the Standard Oil company, all Kettleman Hills high gravity oil. The price was $1.14 per barrel.

Delivery will start Saturday and will be completed before the end of the year.

MOB THREATS KEEP POLICE ON LONG VIGIL

Crowds Demand Cash For War Losses.

VIOLENCE IS FEARED.

Shanghai, To-day.

The Shanghai Municipal Police are standing by daily, outside the insurance offices to afford protection against the irate policy-holders several hundreds of whom besieged the offices of the Wah Sing Fire and Marine Insurance Company in Avenue Edward VII in the heart of the Central District, demanding either payment of their claims or promises of favourable consideration.

The demonstrators took possession of the entire sixth floor of the building and refused to budge. They threatened to wreck the offices and created a disturbance until the police finally persuaded them to disperse.

Police have not yet been forced to use violent measures, and although the mobs have threatened, they have so far been docile when confronted by the law.

RUTH ELDER ON DIVORCE TRAIL.

Planning To Leave Second Husband.

New York, To-day.

Ruth Elder, pretty aviatrix, who, with her pilot, George Haldeman, attempted to fly from New York to Paris in October, 1927, is now en route to Reno after her second husband.

Husband No. 2 is Walter Camp, successful attempt at matrimony. Jr., son of the famous American football authority and coach.

Camp admitted that his wife was seeking a divorce but refused to discuss their misunderstanding beyond the statement, "We merely agreed to disagree."

U.S. READY TO LEND CHINA MILLIONS.

Washington, D.C., despatches through the United Press state that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation announced to-day that it is disposed to grant China a loan for the purpose of purchasing 12,000,000 or 15,000,000 bushels of Pacific North-west wheat, providing the specifications for securing the loan are met.

The loan would require about $8,000,000 of R. F. C. funds.

The sale of wheat to China, financed by the emergency financial machinery of the United States, was proposed to help raise wheat prices.

CHINESE SERGEANT'S LONG SERVICE.

Retiring On Pension From Force.

COMMENDED FOUR TIMES.

After exactly 21 years' service in the Hong Kong Police Force, Police Sergeant Chan Kwal is retiring on pension on October 18.

Formerly a shop coolie, Chan Kwal joined the Police Force on October 18, 1911, rising to the rank of Lance-Sergeant in 1923, and to Crown Sergeant in January, 1930. Joining at the age of 28 years, Chan Kwal, who hailed from Shui Nam Village, is now 47.

He has a distinguished record of service. In November 1920, he was commended by the Captain Superintendent of Police (now I.G.P.) for pluck and zeal in securing the arrest of a prisoner, and in protecting three other prisoners, despite threats and stones from a hostile crowd.

A year later, Chan was commended by the C.S.P. for prompt action and alertness on the occasion of an armed robbery at Ma Kong Village, Stanley, on July 7.

Diligence in arresting a man who took part in a highway robbery on the Shaokwan-Stanley Old Road in January, 1923, won for him a third commendation.

In November, 1929, he was commended by the C.S.P. for the arrest of a man who stole $6,000 in notes from the Kin Yuen Bank, 125 Wing Lok Street.

In 1918 Chan Kwal served on the detective staff.

AMERICAN FINANCIER ARRESTED.

Samuel Insull, who for years was private secretary to the great inventor, the late Thomas A. Edison, fathered numerous enterprises in America and elsewhere during his earlier career but of late has led a more or less retired life. He is 69 years of age, but his connections in the American financial world are still multiple and he has been a strong force for a quarter of a century in the management of many mid-west industries.

Mr. Insull, it is said, made more money out of backing and exploiting his employer's inventions than Edison himself. Both were eminent scientists, but where one had a genius for invention, the other had a "money mind."
